

Expanding Naval History II

Writing, Publishing, Gaming, & Modeling Naval History Presentations and Practical Workshops

29 Feb. - 1 Mar. 2020, San Diego, CA

Sponsored by the Western Naval History Association with participation by the US Naval Institute, the San Diego Maritime Museum and the USS Midway Museum

ABOUT THIS EVENT

Location:
USS Midway

Program:

Saturday 29 Feb 9:30 registration

10 am: Keynote Address

11 am - 5 pm: Workshops & Presentations

7 pm Dinner & Reception

Sunday 1 March 9:30 am - 5:00 pm:
Workshops & Presentations

Information/Registration:

info@wnha.net

or contact

Vincent O'Hara: (vohara@gmail.com)

Dr. Sam Tangredi:

(sam.tangredi@usnwc.edu)

Attendance $50.00/Students $30.00

(includes admission both days to Midway)

Visit the Symposium website at

<https://www.wnha.net/>

The conference is a platform for naval historians, authors, veterans, modelers, war-gamers, and naval enthusiasts to discuss their discipline and to share ideas, information, and energy. It includes workshops on writing, publishing, research resources, gaming, modeling and presentations on historical topics

Keynote Speaker: Richard B. Frank, Guadalcanal, Tower of Skulls
Dr. Bernard Cole, National War College.

Mark Fiorey, Deputy Director, Hattendorf Historical Center.
Operation Passage to Freedom

James Hornfischer, (invited), Neptune's Inferno.

Charles MacVean, Captain USN (ret). "Recollections of a Cold War sub skipper."

Stephen McLaughlin, Russian and Soviet Battleships. "Russian SIGNIT in World War I"

Dr. David J. Ulbrich, Norwich Univ. "USMC & the dawn of amphibious operations."

Dr. Sam Tangredi, Naval War College.

Dr. Cynthia Watson, National War College. "How History Vivifies Joint Professional Military Education".

Michael Whitby, Senior Naval Historian, Canadian DND. "Cold War submarine intelligence operations."

Roundtables

Topics in Cold War Naval History (tentative)

Rear Admiral Michael McDevitt (USN Ret) Michael Whitby, Sam Tangredi, Bernard Cole.

Workshops

Lonnie Gill, General Quarters. "Naval Wargaming"

Richard Russell, Director of the USNIP: "Writing for Naval Institute"
Vince O'Hara, Six Victories, "Making maps for publication."

Robert Stern, Scratch One Flattop. "Photography to illustrate books and articles."

Karl Zingheim, USS Midway. "Dioramas/modeling"

The Western Naval History Association (WNHA) is open to everyone interested in naval history through academic affiliation, professional activities, publications, interests in modeling, gaming, or through association with family or veterans. Its mission is to advance the practice of, and interest in, naval history by creating a congenial community of like-minded scholars and enthusiasts and providing its members with a forum to share resources and knowledge.